

SAUNTERINGS

From Where The West Begins.

By JOHN T. MEYERS.
For The Sea Coast Echo.

INDEPENDENCE DAY will be celebrated on next Wednesday. Patriotic gatherings, parades, and public speeches by civic leaders will demonstrate the devotion and loyalty for their flag and country. To the millions of wage earners happily enjoying the holiday with their families, this year's Fourth of July celebration has a deeper significance. It marks an epochal milestone in more humane understanding of the laboring masses—their burdens and ideals.

Under President Roosevelt's able guidance has been born a new freedom and independence for all Americans. New life—new courage—a new deal! By his sincerity, understanding, and determination, our beloved president has waged a winning battle against economic stagnation, and accompanying evils that had cast a gloom of despair and suffering over the country. Now we are fighting again with a spirit befitting loyal, red-blooded Americans.

It should be the honored privilege of every American on Independence Day to raise his right hand and swear a renewed vow of everlasting love and duty toward his country, flag, president, and fellow countrymen.

CALVIN COOLIDGE was the only president of the United States born on July 4th. Coolidge was born in 1872.

Three presidents died on July 4th: John Adams and Thomas Jefferson in 1826, and Monroe died July 4th, 1831.

DESPITE the country-wide educational campaigns of several years ago urging a 'safe and sane' Fourth of July, many parents still purchase fireworks for children on this occasion. As a result, hospital records are crowded with small victims treated for powder burns, and sometimes—even more serious complications. If your child must have cannon crackers and sky rockets—please for your child's sake and your own BE CAREFUL. Supervise the setting off of the fireworks. It is too late to be cautious after an accident happens.

HERE'S a bit of colorful description written by a woman feature writer on a California newspaper following the earthquake: "Everywhere your eyes are assaulted with a grotesque arabesque of buildings out of plumb." Somehow, that graphic word picture struck our fancy, and we jotted it down in the notebook.

NOT unlike the story of the mail man taking a hike on his day off, the boys-about-town report a well known bartender spending his leisure hours talking shop with a fellow drink mixer on duty at another establishment. And here's the secret: The first time we saw the bar gent off duty, we mistook him for a judge on a lark. No offence, your Honors!

A PAIR of ragged little Mexican shoe shine boys have a system that should be transmitted to General Johnson, the N. R. A. chief. Each lad carries his own portable shoe shining paraphernalia as they wander about the streets and plazas in search of customers. There is no rivalry or chiselling when a job is landed. These lads have a co-operative system. The customer is split up—that is his shoe shine requires two men, and each friendly bootblack artist begins work on a different shoe. In short order, the job is completed, the fee split, and two have had employment instead of one.

MAYBE the idea could be put to good usage in other professions. The barber shop for instance. Tony could work the scissors and razor on one side of the victim's head, while Jake played master of ceremonies on the other. Anyway the idea has possibilities.

LAST Thursday, June 21st, was the longest day of the year. Old Sol was on duty for 14 hours and 1 minute to be exact. According to thermometer recordings over the land Sol's boiler room crew had plenty steam up for the day's sun-shining.

SAUNTERINGS joins Mollere's Groceries many satisfied customers and the Sea Coast Echo staff in extending hearty congratulations to the management and employees of this progressive and up-to-date Waveland firm in behalf of their fifth anniversary. Mr. Mollere's complete stock, friendly service, and fair prices are a combination that form a solid foundation upon which all successful business enterprises are built. An added comment to Mr. Mollere's sound business judgment is the fact that Mollere's Groceries advertisements appear regularly in the Sea Coast Echo—the home newspaper—read by home folks, who eventually become customers. Non-advertising merchants might profit by following Mr. Mollere's aggressive newspaper advertising program.

SAINT ANTONIO motorists are enjoying the benefits of a renewed war between independent and major oil companies. Price of third grade gasoline has dropped from a 17 to 15-cent level. Other grades have taken proportionate declines. Rumors are afloat that more drastic cuts are likely before a truce is signed.

CONGRESSMAN COLMER FORMALLY ANNOUNCES FOR RE-NOMINATION

Congressman 'Bill' Colmer From Mississippi Gulf Coast District Is Candidate For Primary This Summer—Has Allied Himself Throughout With President's New Deal—Something About The Young Congressman.

Basing his candidacy entirely upon his record, which includes loyal support of President Roosevelt in his efforts to bring about national recovery, Congressman William M. Colmer today announces his candidacy for re-election to represent the sixth district, the candidacy being subject to the action of the Democratic voters in the party primaries this summer.

Congressman Colmer, familiarly known as "Bill," whose home is in Pascagoula, is serving his first term in the national legislative body. He was elected in 1932, and took office March 4, 1933, at the time President Roosevelt was inaugurated to face a situation as desperate as had ever confronted any president on his induction into office. The Republican policy of pandering to special privileges had reached its full fruition. Agriculture and industry were prostrated. Every bank in the United States was closed and every thoughtful citizen apprehensive of the future of his country.

With superb courage, the President took the lead. He recognized that bold measures were needed to correct the situation. He realized that certain emergency and temporary measures were essential to restore the equilibrium. His courageous masterful grasp of the disordered situation steadied the nation.

Joining with President Roosevelt and other democratic leaders, the new Congressman Colmer gave able and loyal support to the "New Deal," and worked arduously in his Washington office and in his district at home to serve his people through the distressing period. Rehabilitation has proceeded slowly but constantly, and it is the general opinion that Congressman Colmer's exceptional ability and his careful and sympathetic handling of the many problems in which his constituents had a vital interest has been of incalculable benefit to them.

Mr. Colmer's able support of the administration and the zeal with which he has studied the intricate problems of national government, have attracted notice of the national leaders, who have imposed confidence in him. The remark has often been made by the older members of Congress that he is one of the most capable and effective new men among the large number who were elected to the 73rd Congress. It is said by those citizens of the Sixth District who have visited Washington that Congressman Colmer, who is the youngest in point of service of the Mississippi delegation, possesses a natural ability, a charming personality and a quick perception of the intricacies of government that stamp him as one of the coming leaders of the party.

Much of the young Congressman's success in Washington has been due to his educational training received in his district and to his public services as a school teacher, a soldier, a county attorney, and finally a district attorney, from which office he resigned to enter Congress. Forty-three years of age, a member of a large family which has long been identified with the religious, business and agricultural life of the district, Congressman Colmer has a sympathetic understanding of the needs of the district that bore out the claim made in his first campaign that he was the "ideal" candidate.

Mr. Colmer made but one promise during his campaign for election—that was to be honest. He promised to be honest in everything. His record in his first term shows that he has faithfully lived up to that promise.

In his support of President Roosevelt and of the progressive legislation designed to restore prosperity, Mr. Colmer has been alert to obtain for his district its rightful share of federal help. Never a believer in "pork-barrel legislation," Congressman Colmer has, because of his complete understanding of his district, helped in the locating of three subdivisions of the Eastern Star. Among these present included members of the Eastern Star of the State of Mississippi, Mrs. Lulu Horne, worthy grand matron, of Sandersville, J. W. Rankin, worthy grand patron of Corinth, Miss.

Over one half of the money so far approved for Mississippi by the P. W. A. has been set aside for improvements in the Sixth district, while highways, schools, school buildings, and other public works are being planned.

An Associated Press dispatch from Washington brings the intelligence that the postoffice department on Monday announced approval of eight new postoffice buildings. The list follows, the last five mentioned of the eight carrying no figures, however, it is expected they rate in the approximate $30,000 to $50,000, it was said locally by someone familiar with the subject.

Subject to a new postoffice building has been in discussion the past few years and the news came as no surprise.

BRIDGE TRAFFIC BLOCKED

Bay Auto Bridge Inactive for Three Hours Monday Evening—Power Cable Damaged By Tender

Automotive traffic east from Bay St. Louis and west and south from Henderson Point was held up for nearly three hours early Monday night of this week when the bi-county highway bridge across Bay St. Louis swung wide open for the passage of a government tender patrol boat and the boat, due to the exceedingly low tide prevailing at the time, disabled the cable supplying the current to the draw span.

The tender was the Chicawap of Mobile. Its propeller was said to have been caught fast in the cables stretching beneath the span by which the bridge machinery is operated.

The low tide is thought to have caused the boat's propeller to become entangled in the wires. It was two hours before the boat was freed. The boat was not injured.

Unable to close the bridge under its own power, the tender on duty summoned assistance and the span was closed by hand. The bridge was closed to traffic from about 6 p. m. until nearly 9 p. m.

Scores of motorists waited in their cars both here and at Henderson point until they were able to cross the bay.

The cable will be repaired Tuesday by the power company, it was said, the draw remaining closed by the night after turned in position by tedious and laborious hand power.

The Chicawap is the tender for the Albatross, government dredge both used in clearing the Ship Island channel.

Captain Faye and his estimable wife were the usual genial hosts for which they are known country-wide and the many enjoyed the afternoon in thorough fashion.

W. M. U. Holds Monthly Meeting At Home of Mrs. Speer

The W. M. U. held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. (Dr.) W. S. Speer, Wednesday, June 20th, with quite a large number attending.

Mrs. J. S. Shaw was elected vice-president to fulfill the place of Mrs. Speer who took the president's office, due to the resignation of Mrs. Laurent Dickinson. The society regrets very much to lose Mrs. Dickinson as its president since she is such an efficient and capable leader but hope that she will be able to join us again in the near future. We know Mrs. Speer's faithful service will lead us on a full year's work, and we look forward to an interesting year under the leadership of Mrs. Speer and Mrs. Shaw.

After the business session quite an interesting program on "The History of the Southern Baptist Convention," was given by the program chairman, Mrs. James Sylvester. At the end of the program our hostess served delicious refreshments. We adjourned looking forward to the July meeting with Mrs. W. O. Sylvester and daughter, Miss Ethel at their home in Second street.

TO ALL WATER CONSUMERS:

We have been for the past few weeks confronted with numerous justifiable complaints relative to the present water supply and pressure. This condition has existed for the past several years and becomes more acute during the dry summer months.

We have made a careful survey of the water supply and have compiled some data that we feel quite sure will be of interest to you and help us in alleviating the inadequate water supply in its prevalent condition.

The maximum water supply consists of one reservoir with a capacity of 355,210 gallons; a pressure tower, capacity 75,000 gallons; two 6 inch wells under normal conditions, each will flow approximately 250 gallons per minute, or 720,000 gallons per day. From the reservoir the water is pumped into the pressure tower 125 feet in height. The tower supplies the city with water through its various mains.

In order to meet the requirements of the Miss. State Rating Bureau, relative to "adequate fire protection" and fire insurance rates, it is absolutely necessary and mandatory that the pressure tower be full at all times. Inasmuch as the tower receives its water supply from the reservoir, the supply of water on hand can be exhausted if more water is taken from the tower than that which flows into the reservoir or 720,000 gallons a day. When the supply of water in the reservoir becomes low, then it is imperative to apply in the tower, to reduce the pressure and quantity of water.

This reduction of pressure, flow of water to the mains, thus, during the night giving the wells an opportunity to refill the depleted reservoir. During this period the consumption is limited in order to establish a full reservoir before the beginning of another day. The same routine is repeated as the water supply on hand demands.

The pumping of the water from the reservoir into the tower costs the tax payers of Bay St. Louis on an average of $200.00 per month. The more water consumed from the tower the more pumping is necessary to refill. Consequently during the summer months the cost of pumping is increased in proportion to the amount of water consumed.

For the past few weeks it has been impossible for the wells to refill the reservoir due to the reduction in the flow. Consequently we have had to conserve for emergencies and your fire protection a tower full of water by decreasing and limiting the consumption of water for general usage.

The above and foregoing explains why the pressure of the water has been low. The water supply of Bay St. Louis during the summer months is inadequate when the consumption is increased and the potential water supply decreased, for the present per capita consumption. To rectify this condition it would become necessary for the City to establish another well from which the reservoir would receive an additional water supply to meet any and all conditions. This the city cannot undertake in its present financial condition and outstanding bonded debt. It has been and will be the policy of this office to serve the tax monies entrusted to it and safeguard the rights and privileges of the citizenry of Bay St. Louis.

On the other hand we can rectify the present temporary inadequate water supply by conserving and reducing the consumption thereof. We realize the necessity of watering plants, gardens, lawns, etc. However your own fire protections deserves, during the summer months, your very conservative consumption. The following data will show the amount of water consumed per capita over a period of 24 hours:

Capacity of Reservoir	355,210 gal.
Capacity of Pressure Tower	75,000 gal.
Capacity of two 6 inch wells	720,000 gal.

Total tabulated maximum water supply ----- 1,150,210 gal. However, this does not include 3 other 4 inch wells running constantly into the mains. On actual test beginning Saturday, June 23rd., at 11:00 A. M. and ending Sunday, June 24th., at 11:00 A. M., 1,022,418 gallons of water were consumed or a per capita consumption of 301.40 gallons and over a ten day period 3,014 gallons. This gives us an idea of the enormous amount of water consumed

PUBLIC SCHOOLS ARE ECONOMY.

TAXPAYERS of Hancock County, grumbling about taxes and looking upon school expenditures as a likely place for retrenchment, ought to be careful in urging the execution of a program which is likely to cripple the cause of education.

Those who have children of school age should be on guard less the demand of the unthinking persuade responsible authorities to curtail school programs unnecessarily. If the public school system becomes inefficient and parents have to resort to private educational institutions to secure advantages for their children they will soon discover how much economy is involved in paying liberal taxes to support our public schools.

The facts in regard to public education in the United States are somewhat alarming! Two million children have been deprived of any schooling this year or limited to terms shorter than those available to their grandparents. Other public schools have resorted to tuition fees to keep open. Important units and services, including kindergarten, health services and classes for handicapped children, which have been available in a limited number of schools, have been discontinued in many districts.

What about it? The answer is that every parent in Hancock County should make it his or her duty to keep in touch with local school conditions and manifest such interest in the educational program that no one will consider retrenchment the "easiest way." This is particularly the duty of those parents in modest circumstances, who gain most from the public school system because without it their children would be largely uneducated.

NO LIFE FOR SENSITIVE SOULS

NOW that Congress has adjourned and the members, for the most part, are facing the voters, the verdict to be rendered in primary elections, it might be well for people to remember that there are always two sides to a question.

Members of Congress have had a hard time in the past year, with many of them not knowing what it was all about and others unable to tell where their own party could jump. It is no joke on the Congressmen, because there were few people in the land who knew any better.

Two-thirds of the Senators, sitting back after the tiresome session, still speak the voice of oracles, because they run no races this summer. The rest of the klan, facing the hillbillies and the educated mass, must attempt to jockey a way through the pitfalls that opposition has set for them. No wonder some of them make foolish statements and get "in bad." They have to act upon national matters at the capital and appease local saps and wizards at home, with one good fall being equivalent to a beating. It's no life for a sensitive soul.

INDIANS, WOMEN AND CLOTHES

WISDOM comes from unsuspected places, as witness the story told by William La Varre, back from an eight months trip through the jungles of British Guiana, where he found white Indians, whose women were "outstandingly good looking" and whose men were "tall and well built."

One chief made the explorers put away the gaudy print goods which he intended to give them, saying "if our women see them, they will want to put on clothes" and put clothes on a woman and things begin to happen. . . . It is far better that they remain naked."

The experience of the Indian chief is confirmed by that of Adam, whose troubles began about the time Eve took to wearing clothes. Moreover, it will probably puzzle a lot of people in this country who think modesty and morals have something to do with the wearing of clothes, when many explorers, to the contrary, tell of high personal morality among tribes whose members go naked.

The depression is still evident in church collection results.

Congress has finally adjourned but the voters will hear a lot about it in the next few months.

No education is complete that does not include a study of getting along with other human beings.

Americans must not expect the government to do it all; it is still the business of a man to support himself and family.

The Boy Scout organization is doing wonderful work with five million boys. Why not extend its benefits to all boys of Bay St. Louis?

Never lose sight of the fact that the best advertisement that Bay St. Louis can have is a city beautiful, with houses, yards and premises neat and clean.

Fishing experts are beginning to get in old time form and the stories that Bay St. Louis fishermen tell indicate that the finny tribe is bigger and better than ever.

GREED CAN WRECK RECOVERY

INCREASED irritation is reported on the part of farmers over the restrictions of the A. A. A., which is evident when one recalls the wordage wasted in the fight against Dr. Tugwell.

The same fact, it is said, begins to appear when business men show vexation over the rules and regulations of the N. R. A.

In both instances, the rigid requirements run counter to the strong individualism of the persons affected. However, it is worth noting that individualism did not raise its head when the government was putting money into the pockets of farmers or business men. Only when the government, after paying benefits, begins to ask for co-operation in bearing the burden, does the farmer or business man begin to feel so much independence and individualism.

The idea seems to be abroad in the land that what the government should do is to give the individual all the breaks, make money for him and save him from his past folly. Then, having done so much, the government should respect his individualism and not ask him to play the game according to the rules, made to insure fairness to everybody.

Personally, we have no hesitation in confessing an abysmal ignorance as to where N. R. A. and A. A. A. lead, but, in our weakest intellectual moments, we have no idea that either of them will put us in the same place we were standing when the banks of the nation closed their doors last year. Just how it is to be done is matter upon which we have not been advised or consulted, but that it can be accomplished if every farmer and every business man plays the hog, with the aid of politicians seeking their favor, is patently an impossibility for any kind of deal, old or new.

Boiled down, the so-called new deal is much dependent upon the moral fibre and strength of the individuals it aims to help. Let them play fairly, be just and reasonably unselfish, and it will move along. Let selfishness, greed and the old grab-it-all fever run rampant through the land and the next depression will make this one look like a picnic.

LET'S SPEED THE NEW DAY

THE people of Bay St. Louis, remembering the hectic fortunes that were made in this country during the days before the great disaster which almost broke the nation, might as well make up their minds to a new form of community progress, and then get set for an honest effort to achieve it.

There was a time when it was the prime ambition of men and women to have the most money and set the pace in and around Bay St. Louis. There are, undoubtedly, many among us who still believe that affluence is the goal of all activity and the end of all effort. They and their kind are the ones who helped to produce the economic catastrophe that has all but engulfed future prosperity.

The idea is beginning to dawn, here and there, however, that a state would be much better off if it provides the means whereby all of its people can enjoy moderate good fortune, rather than to have a few rich individuals and millions of poor ones.

The idea, we believe, can be caught from the last sentence. Let's set our goal, here in Bay St. Louis to the development of a community in which all children shall have a fair chance, a good prospect, and all adults shall find reasonable earnings possible, with consequent success to all.

In times of war the people of a nation move toward a common end, the salvation of their country through the defeat of the enemy. Today the enemy is poverty and the end sought is a more abundant life for all of the people. No longer will the rank and file of Americans be willing to see a few hundred individuals control the destinies of the entire nation and reap profits through their manipulation.

What a paradox the recent years have produced, people starving amid huge surpluses, panic amid amazing gold reserves, and hope almost lost when many thought the era of plenty was at hand. It must not happen again, and if the people of Bay St. Louis, and other cities set themselves for a new economy, designed and engineered for the common good, upon a basis of living and let live, the next generation may yet see a wonderful day dawn.

THE N. R. A. BIRTHDAY

THE N. R. A., celebrating its first full year, takes some pride in pointing out that employment is better, wages are higher, child labor lessened, manufacturing up fifty per cent, exports nearly 71 per cent above a year ago and imports nearly 60 per cent.

The critics may point that all this might have happened without N. R. A., which, they say, is government meddling into business affairs. Regardless of that contention, automobile manufacturers find sales doubling those of last year, steel production double, and the output of coal and electric power increased and freight movements showing larger tonnages.

No doubt exists, whatever interferences government has shown to business, that there is now activity where there was almost complete stagnation and hope where there was once despair.

WHY GO 15 MILES?

TWO army fliers, busy in the Black Hills of South Dakota, expect to soar ten, or fifteen miles into the stratosphere, using a giant ball, 300 feet tall, and holding 3,000,000 cubic feet of hydrogen. The big bag is higher than many skyscrapers and is expected to get off to a good start sometime within the next two weeks.

Readers of The Echo may be puzzled and wonder why Major William Kepner and Capt. A. W. Stevens are anxious to make their ascent into space, hoping to go where man has not yet reached into the blue sky. It is the same question that one sometimes hears about Admiral Byrd, buried under snow and ice at the South Pole. The answer is that some men have the urge to do just such things, without trying too much to understand the mental machinery that leads them on.

MERELY THEORETICAL

By GEORGE E. SCHILLING

DYNAMIC ECONOMICS.

AS THIS column stated last week, dynamic is the opposite of static. It implies force and motion, or motion as the result of force. Dynamic economics, then, is a study of the production, distribution and consumption of wealth as affected by changing conditions.

One difficulty in writing on the subject is that the writer doesn't know much about it. The ignorance is nothing to be ashamed of, for nobody else knows very much either, except, possibly, the technocrats, who have been working on it for about fourteen years, and who have so much material that they cannot print what they know.

Some forty years ago a professor in Pennsylvania published a little book named "Dynamic Economics," which did not accomplish much except to give the idea a name and to define it. Veblen, a generation later, attacked the praises of static economics, worried the static economists a good deal by proving them wrong, but stated his own constructive theories rather vaguely, which was all he could do. The study of business cycles, that is of boom and depressions, has given us some information on the topic. The only experiment on which we can rely as a reasonably safe guide for ourselves was made in British during the World War as a means of national safety. The old system of "laissez-faire" would undoubtedly have lost the war and wrecked the British Empire.

Nobody knows exactly what dynamic economics will be for a great deal of work must be done before we can develop it into a system; but we can tell what it will be like, just as a chemist can tell a good deal about a substance which he has never seen. Unlike static economics, it will not imply a system of personal conduct, any more than physics or geometry does. The unit is not the individual, or even the family, it is the whole society, or the nation. It will, however, condemn the glorification of selfishness by static economics not because selfishness is wrong, but because it is stupid. Its problem is to study the effects on the production, distribution and consumption of wealth of changing conditions, and to indicate how these effects may be modified intelligently.

The word suggests that the changes have come about as the result of force, or forces, and the first assignments to recognize and define those forces. One of them we can see very clearly, that is the increasing use of machinery, with its increased production and decreased demand for hand labor. (We are told that industrial advance creates a demand for labor, which is, of course, pure bunk) the technocrats tell us that the important factor in this industrial development is mechanical power, steam, gasoline and electric—which can be measured very accurately. We are told, and it sounds quite reasonable, that our producing power has increased nearly forty per cent since 1929. The second force is the very confusing one of debt, which is said to be increasing as the square of the time elapsed.

The cheerful fact about this very difficult and confusing subject is that it is an economics of plenty, and not of want. For the first time in the history of the world there is enough for everybody, at least in this country. Economics suggests economy, which, in turn, suggests frugality—going without. This kind of saving was a general and an individual necessity until a few years ago. It becomes recognized as a virtue, and the old habit of thinking still remains. We can't get over the idea that we have to deny ourselves and hoard money. Economy properly means not saving, but wise management. That used to imply saving as an individual practice. Now dynamic distribution of wealth which has suddenly become enough for everybody.

Where dynamic economic will lead us nobody knows. It may be to some form of socialism, or it may be to a stricter regulation of private business. It is fairly sure to prescribe some form of social control, which means political control, of private business. There are questions involved not only of pure economics, but also of administration, of psychology and of morals.

Static economics appears to have made a poor showing during the past few years. It has busted the farmers, many millions of our workers and a huge number of business men and investors. It promises that its laws are true, to end up by busting practically everybody and everything else, including our governments, local, state and national. A leading New York banker has said that there is no longer a safe investment in the world. We do not know much about dynamic economics, except that it is extremely difficult but all the indication are that we need to study the subject, and also that we are all beginning to learn a little about it.

"I suppose you have heard rumors that I'm engaged to Peggy?" "Yes. If it is true, I congratulate you; if not, I congratulate Peggy."

Pe—Tommy, I am not at all pleased at the report your teacher sent me in regard to your conduct. Tommy—I knew you wouldn't be, and I told her so. But she went right on and made it out that way. Just like a woman, ain't it?

R., all the acreage contained in these exceptions to be exempt from the reforestation tax except as may hereafter be provided.

Or that is for the rescission of the Order of this Board entered on the 23rd day of September, 1932, and set out in Vol. M, pages 580-1, of the minutes of the Board of Supervisors of Hancock County, Miss., same having been checked over and examined by this Board and it appearing that a majority of the freeholders of the area above described in this county have signed said petition to discontinue the annual levy, barefooted and usually without hats, they can manage to keep comfortable and healthy.

On motion of Calvin Shaw, duly seconded by Lander H. Necaise, and duly put to the Board, a majority of the Board, to-wit: Lander H. Necaise, Calvin Shaw and Emilio Cue, having voted in favor of receiving said petition, filing same and discontinuing said assessment of a 3 cents per acre taxed against timbered and uncultivated land in the area hereinabove described.

It is therefore ordered that the 3 cent levy per acre assessed against the timbered and uncultivated acreage within the following described area:

Commencing at the NE corner of Sec. 1, T. 5, S. R. 14 W., said point being the point of intersection of the boundaries of Pearl River, Stone, Harrison and Hancock counties; thence south with the east boundary of Hancock County to its intersection with the north shore of Bay St. Louis which is also the point where the east line of Sec. 12, T. 8, S. I certainly can recommend Cardui to other sufferers."

SUMMERTIME BRINGS NUMEROUS DANGERS TO VACATIONISTS

Hancock County Should Require All Dogs To Be Vaccinated

There is no doubt about it but that summertime is here again and that Old Sol is doing his best to let us feel his presence. For some, warmer weather means increased pleasures and joys, but for others, especially those who are inclined to be a little stout, the summer holds nothing but discomfort.

There isn't any season during the year, however, that holds more in the way of freedom and enjoyment for the children and the young people than does the summertime. Clad in practically nothing, barefooted and usually without hats, they can manage to keep comfortable and healthy.

However, summer brings with it a super-abundance of insects, snakes and the like, from which every child should be closely guarded. Every grown person should know how to treat bites of this nature in order that the pain and danger may be greatly lessened.

If one is stung by a bee, wasp or yellow jacket, the first thing that should be done is to remove the sting from the flesh, if it still remains, and apply a drop or two of diluted ammonia water. Cold compresses will help stop the pain and swelling.

The sting of a centipede, spider or scorpion is usually more severe than that of a bee or wasp and therefore demands more careful treatment. Bleeding should be forced to wash out any material deposited by the bite and then tincture of iodine applied.

The most common spider bites are by the shoe button spider, so called, because it looks like a black button, and by the black widow spider, given its name because the female of species frequently eats the male. Spider bites should never be neglected, because they sometimes prove fatal.

Every child should be taught to report bites of any kind, and especially those of a cat, dog or snake. If bitten by a cat or dog, precaution should be taken to determine the possibility of hydrophobia in the animal. Numbers of communities are now requiring that all dogs be vaccinated against hydrophobia, and this is certainly to be commended.

A campaign in Hancock County to get rid of stray dogs and cats and to have all pet animals vaccinated as a precaution against hydrophobia would prove a step in the right direction and would prove a protection to the residents of Hancock County, whether old or young.

Following his American debut in "Caravan," Charles Boyer is scheduled to go to work for Jesse L. Lasky in "The Captive Bride," with Dorothy Arzner as director. After that, he returns to France for a vacation and then will come back to this country in the early fall for the leading masculine role in another Lasky picture, "Casanova, the Immortal Lover."

IT'S GREAT TO LOSE FAT AND FEEL YEARS YOUNGER

We picked out this letter for fat folks to read to-day—read every word.

"I give you my full permission to print this letter. I used Kruschen Salts for reducing. I lost 30 lbs., since I have been taking it. I praise it to everybody I know that is fat. And I also feel years younger." Miss Edna Hunn, Algiers, La.

A jar of Kruschen Salts lasts 4 weeks and the cost is trifling. Are you taking Salts to reduce or to please your palate?

Just try Kruschen for a month—besides losing fat you'll gain in physical attractiveness—skin grows clear—eyes sparkle with health. Take half a teaspoonful in a glass of hot water before breakfast every morning—you feel cooler in hot weather—get it at any drugstore in the world.

Cue, and Lander H. Necaise.

Those voting against it are: Chas. Murphy and John B. Wheat.

Supervisors Murphy and Wheat in explanation of their vote against the rescission of said tax state that their reason for voting against the rescission of said tax is, for the failure of the Board to consider the petition of the freeholders in the above described area asking that their names be stricken from the original petition, it being their opinion that if the said petition had been considered, that the necessary majority to rescind the former order of this Board would not have been on said original petition.

Be it ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the Road and Bridge Fund as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

Chas. B. Murphy, inspection 50.00
John B. Wheat, inspection 50.00
Calvin Shaw, inspection 50.00
L. H. Necaise, inspection 50.00
Emilio Cue, inspection 50.00

Be it ordered by the Board that the following amounts be allowed and paid out of the General County Fund as per bills on file, examined and approved, to-wit:

Chas. B. Murphy, attendance 25.00
John B. Wheat, attendance 25.00
Calvin Shaw, attendance 25.00
L. H. Necaise, attendance 25.00
Emilio Cue, attendance 25.00
A. G. Favez, attendance 100.00

Be it ordered by the Board that the Board adjourn until the Board in course.

WITH THE MOVIES AND FILM FOLKS

(For The Sea Coast Echo)

THE recent read into England of David O. Selznick, of MGM, sumably to find a proper person to play the part of David in his film version of Dickens' "David Copperfield," and to get background scenes of the Dickens country, seems to have been more fruitful than that. He came back to Hollywood with the signatures of Hugh Walpole, Fritz Lang and Leontine Sagan; found a 19-year-old English lad, Peter Trent, for the part of David and also persuaded David Lloyd George, war premier of England, to permit his memoirs to be brought to the screen.

Mr. George, in consenting to allow the film to be made stipulated that all scenes must be approved by him and that everything in the film must be based upon actual facts. In order to make this practicable, it is probable that Mr. George will make the trip to Hollywood this fall to supervise the making of the picture.

Hugh Walpole, vice president of the Dickens Fellowship, will have as his principal task the problem of insuring the film against the criticisms of Dickens lovers, who will be quick to note any liberties taken with the original and widely read "David Copperfield."

Fritz Lang, a brilliant German director, was found in Paris and persuaded to make his first trip to Hollywood. Leontine Sagan, co-director of "Maedchen in Uniform," regarded as a director of "enormous talent," was also persuaded by Mr. Selznick to come to Hollywood. She will be from England in July.

Fox has found the pictures featuring Will Rogers so profitable to the studio that they plan to take W. C. Fields and feature him in the same type of film. His first venture as a homespun philosopher and cracker-barrel counselor will be in "Back Porch."

Will Rogers' next vehicle has been announced as "One More Spring," and with the star will be Janet Gaynor, Warner Baxter and Stepin Fetchit, with other names to be added.

RKO-Radio has a full schedule these days with "The Fountain," featuring Ann Harding, "Age of Innocence," with Irene Dunne and John Boles, and "Gay Divorce," with Ginger Rogers, Fred Astaire and Edward Everett Horton, all before the cameras.

Paramount has cast Charles Rugles in the role of Aaron and Mary Boland as Comfort Kirkland in the "Pursuit of Happiness."

Polly Waters is the latest of the Broadwayites to answer the call to Hollywood. She has signed a contract with Universal that will not interfere with her present work on the stage. Two pictures being considered for her are "The Princess O'Hara" by Damon Runyon and Preston Sturges' "A Cup of Coffee."

Victor McLaglen's next for Columbia will be "The Captain Hates the Sea."

"The World Moves On," featuring Madeline Carroll and Franchot Tone, has been completed and was released this week, others in the cast are: Louise Dresser, Raul Roulien, Reginald Denny, Siegfried Rumann, Dudley Digges and Lumsden Hare.

WILL ROGERS IN "DAVID HARUM" OPENS HERE SOON

Star Has Role Requested by thousands of Fans In New Fox Film With Louise Dresser And Evelyn Venable

Fox Film's latest release, "David Harum," starring Will Rogers, will make his appearance on the screen of the A. & G. Theater, on Sunday and Monday. Because of the nation's friendly interest in the humorist-philosopher-star, letters pour into his home regularly, suggesting a particular story of theme or character for his next picture. More suggestions urging him to play "David Harum" were received than all others combined. It was virtually in response to the command of the theater-going public that Fox Film produced this story.

Its typical American theme deals with a shrewd horse trader. Because of the coldness with which he barters, and his uncanny method of outwitting people in business good in the small town in which he lives. A young man who has come to work in the bank owned by his employer really has a soft heart, and that his hardness is only for those who deal unfairly. The young man has fallen in love with a wealthy girl, but hesitates to propose marriage because of his poor financial standing. The horse trader, who is interested in the boy, tries to help the romance along, but gets nowhere. When the young girl comes to him and requests him to enter her horse in a forthcoming race he advises the boy to place all his savings on the horse. The hilarious method by which the horse trader brings the horse home a winner is said to bring the film to a happy and amusing conclusion.

The large cast in support of Will Rogers displays an array of impressive names that include Louise Dresser, Evelyn Venable, Kent Taylor, Stephen Petchit, Noah Berry, Roger Imhof, Frank Melton, Charles Middleton, Sarah Padden and Lillian Stuart.

James Cullen directed from Walter Wood's screen play, which was adapted from the novel by Edward Noyes Westcott.

EXEMPT COTTON TO BE TAGGED

D. C. Griffith, New Orleans, member of the board of cotton examiners, division of the federal agricultural bureau of economics and cotton marketing in the New Orleans Cotton Exchange building, has been designated to aid in the tagging of cotton produced prior to the present season under the provisions of the Bankhead cotton tax act, John Haggerty, chairman of the examining board, announced recently.

All cotton produced prior to the present season is to be exempt from the new tax under the Bankhead act, and must therefore be tagged.

A great deal of confusion has resulted from a delay in instructions from Washington. Mr. Haggerty said.

It was largely attended and it meant a big time for the young folks.

Waveland can boast of more people now than August of last year, our banner year.

Congressman Colmer
Formally Announces
For Re-Election

veterans' hospitals, ports, waterways and other public properties have benefited under the "New Deal" which Congressman Colmer has so earnestly supported.

Fairminded observers who have watched the national recovery program and Congressman Colmer's work know that he has served his district with distinction and with honor. He is without bias; he has faced issues courageously, and he has scorned the lies of the demagogue. In the hundreds of services he has been called upon to perform for his constituents he has been painstaking, thorough and sympathetic. His honesty and sincerity have not been questioned.

With natural ability, humanity, and understanding, Mr. Colmer's friends believe that a great future lies before him in the national Congress. But his friends realize that it takes time, regardless of the merit or ability of a man, for him to receive national recognition and win a chairmanship on an important committee. Those who are familiar with the workings of the national Congress point out that Congress is run on a basis of seniority, and ability is not the factor when it comes to a committee. A demonstration of this is that Southern Congressmen, who long had been in office, became heads of committees when the Democrats came into power. Texas today has five chairmanships of the most important committees of the House because Texans kept their members there. That is how Garner became Speaker and later Vice-President. Today the present Speaker, Mr. Rainey, is the oldest man in point of service in Congress.

Congressman Colmer's record in his brief service in the national Congress has been a record of unswerving contribution to the Democratic administration and its able leader, President Roosevelt. Out of approximately fifty measures advocated by President Roosevelt, he has with one exception—that of certain veterans' legislation—loyally and ably supported the chief executive in his war against the depression. It is a significant fact that of approximately ninety members of the lower House who have come up for re-nomination by the Democratic party in the primaries already held, all but four have been renominated by their constituents. It appears that the people of America, and especially the people of Democratic districts, are solidly behind President Roosevelt and those members of Congress who supported him in the 73rd Congress. It is not thought that the Democrats of the Sixth Congressional District of Mississippi will be an exception. An endorsement of Mr. Colmer's record by his constituency will be viewed as an endorsement of President Roosevelt and the Democratic administration.

In authorizing the announcement of his candidacy for re-election Congressman Colmer said:

"I am happy, now that Congress has adjourned, to make my formal announcement for re-election to the position which I have held for the past fifteen months. I have stayed on the job continuously since my induction into office on March 4th of last year. I have attended every session of the Congress and have earnestly, conscientiously and patriotically done everything within my power to assist that great, outstanding Democrat and leader, President Roosevelt, in this great national crisis and to assist the people of my district whom I have the honor to represent. "My record in the brief time that I have been a member of Congress is known to all. It is the record of the Democratic administration in the 73rd Congress. I claim no special credit for the substantial achievements that have been made by the President and the Congress for the alleviation of the suffering and the avoidance of the impending national catastrophe when the Democratic party came into power last year. But I am happy that my people of South Mississippi gave me the opportunity, which I have enjoyed, of contributing to the best of my ability in the effort that has been made to return the country to its normal state of happiness and prosperity for the masses of the American people. "While my friends have repeatedly pointed out that according to the Democratic custom I was entitled to a second and full term, without opposition, I welcome an opportunity for my constituency to say by their ballots in the August primary whether or not they approve of that record and whether they desire a continuation of my services in their behalf and in behalf of President Roosevelt's recovery program in the next Congress."

—Miss June Elliott, who has been spending several weeks at New Orleans, visiting her aunt, Mrs. J. H. Thompson returned home. Miss Chaddie Elliott, her sister, recent graduate, and a number of the Little Theater at New Orleans, will remain for an indefinite period, rehearsing for an early forthcoming review.

—Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Scharff and son, Robert, left at an early hour Sunday for Memphis, Tenn., where they reached in time that evening to attend the wedding of a brother of Mr. Scharff's. The party will motor over to Little Rock, Dallas, thence to San Angelo, Texas. Mrs. Scharff and son plan to spend two months. Mr. Scharff is due home Thursday of this week.

NEWS NOTES OF
GENERAL INTEREST
FROM BAY LIBRARY

Now wouldn't you call it hoarding when Mr. Leo Seal locks up seventeen books in a safety deposit box? No, don't blame Mr. Seal, it was the janitor's notion of duty, after the former, with great public spirit, had transported the books from Jackson. Dismay reigned until the darky appeared and explained; and no one could deny that the books had been in safe-keeping... Miss Louise Crawford advises that we read these books from the Jackson library soon, as they will be shifting about the middle of July.

Miss Crawford's success in her community reading centers makes us feel that the library has really taken root and is putting out branches. She finds that jig-saw puzzles are a help here in creating interest. One old farmer strove with toil-worn hands to adjust a sunset when a neighbor called through the window.

"Say Joe, your wife says how about that bucket of water?" "She knows where to get it" was the reply, and he gave up the sunset and commenced on the foliage.

We hope the foregoing will not discourage women from donating jig-saws to the cause, for all of us can find jig saw puzzles and magazines in the garret, though the family sock be empty.

Returning to the library—Mrs. C. D. Taylor, of Pass Christian, paid a visit, was interested, and gave thirty books, twenty-six of them for children.

Everyone will regret to hear that Mrs. Caroline Dale Snedeker has left for New York and Nantucket, to be gone for two months. However, the traditional story-hour will continue at the library Thursdays at four, with various substitutes.

Hands of Decorators

Mrs. Roberta Case's Beauty Shoppe, located near the A. & G. Theater, and opposite The Echo Bldg., is having the interior of her place redecorated in new and attractive manner, besides, an ardent advocate of cleanliness at all times.

Mrs. Case has an advertisement in this issue of The Echo illustrating the new machine she has installed, doing more and more permanent work at far less tediousness to the patron. This is a new and simpler method, makes for more effective results and only a trial will be sufficient to convince. Read the ad each week from Case's Beauty Shoppe. Trade solicited from the Bay-Waveland district, the county and Pass Christian and vicinity as well. Visitors from New Orleans will delight to visit and try the new and permanent service.

—As strange as it may seem from near-by sections Bay St. Louis and immediate vicinity are suffering from a drouth of several weeks duration, and accordingly, flower gardens, and other fields of vegetation are suffering severely. Rain practically every day in New Orleans and none in Bay St. Louis seems rather unusual.

Personal and General

MARRIAGE OF MISS
MARJORIE FOURNIER TO
MR. R. P. LINFIELD.

An interesting event of outstanding prominence took place at Waveland Saturday evening, when Miss Marjory Kittredge Fournier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fournier and Mr. Robert Paine Linfield, son of the Rev. and Mrs. William Linfield, of Mississippi, (the former deceased) were married at the home of the bride's parents, with Rev. Father M. J. Costello, pastor of the church of St. Claire's in Waveland, officiating.

The bride appeared a vision of loveliness, attired in white satin, wreath of orange blossoms and veil of tulle illusion. She carried a shower bouquet and the accessories of dress were in keeping with her bridal attire of immaculate white. The bride was given away in marriage by her father.

Miss Marjory Grant Bryan, of Nashville, Tenn., was the only attendant, wore a dress of pink sheer with light blue accessories to match, and carried an old-fashioned bouquet of forget-me-nots.

The attendant was Mr. Hillard Linfield, of Gulfport, relative of the groom.

Only relatives from both contracting sides were present to this beautiful affair, exemplifying all the beauty and sanctity of a quiet home wedding, yet set in all the glory and beauty befitting an occasion.

The lovely bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Fournier, prominently known in New Orleans and Gulf Coast social circles, a graduate of Gulf Park College.

The groom is a well-known professional man, a graduate civil engineer from Tulane.

Mr. and Mrs. Linfield left the same evening of their wedding by auto for "parts unknown," and will be gone for a while on bridal trip before returning, after which they will be "at home" to their friends in Pritchard place, New Orleans.

The interior of the Waveland home lent itself to the artistry of the decorator's hand. Prominently outstanding were peonies of pastel shades of pink. The reception following was only for the immediate members of the family of both sides.

MISS BETTY HUBER
BECOMES BRIDE OF C. I.
GREEN AT MILL RAFT, PA.

The marriage of Miss Elizabeth Noretta Huber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frederick C. Huber of 8511-113th street, Richmond Hill, N. Y., to Mr. Celim Ira Green, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Green of Scranton, Pa., took place Saturday June 16th, on the lawn of the Green summer home at Mill Raft, Pa., and a reception followed.

The Rev. Dr. E. W. Cross, rector of the Union Congregational Church of Richmond Hill performed the ceremony.

As the bridal procession made its way to an arbor of pine branches and mountain laurel, the bride's cousin, Charles L. Diehm sang, "Oh, promise me," accompanied by Mr. Arthur Hannel.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of beige lace with a hat to match and carried a bouquet of African daisies. She also wore a beautiful gold bracelet, given to her by the groom's mother, which was given to the groom's maternal grandmother by the grandfather on her wedding day. Miss Ethel M. Huber, the bride's sister, was the maid of honor and wore a gown of old-fashioned chiffon. Her hat was of blue crepe and she carried a bouquet of old-fashioned flowers. Baby Joyce Moore was the flower girl and Master Teddy Hunt was the ring bearer.

Mr. Green is a graduate of Middlebury College, Vermont. The best man was Steven Hoyle of Woonsocket, R. I., college chum of the groom. The couple have taken a cottage on Lake Erie for the summer and intend to make Buffalo, N. Y. their home in the fall.

The marriage of Miss Huber is of more than ordinary interest, claiming wide-spread attention both in New Orleans and the Mississippi Gulf Coast, particularly that section of the city of Bay St. Louis. Miss Huber came South several years ago from New York, introduced by Mrs. Lillie K. Leonard whose house guest she was. No visitor has been entertained and socially fetted more. Miss Huber's popularity proved an instant success and increased with each season's visit. She also visited the Misses Miriam and Levia Engman. The news of her marriage and beautiful wedding is of absorbing interest and charming news.

each day during the summer months.

This urgent appeal is for your protection. Open faucets and hose connections imperil and handicap our fire fighting facilities. Ordinance No. 94, Section 9, passed and adopted in open board June 19, 1923, prohibits "The use of open hose and faucets and the use of hose nozzles with a diameter greater than ¾ inch." Section 19 reads as follows: "Street and lawn sprinklers with hose will be permitted only between the hours of six and nine A. M. and four and six p. m. All faucets having hose bib connections shall be charged for as a sprinkler whether used for that purpose or not."

The exigency of the water situation makes it imperative that we call on you for your earnest cooperation in the conservation of the water. This appeal effects each and every consumer and tax payer in Bay St. Louis. It is to your interest that we make an appeal feeling sure that when you know, realize and understand the situation and circumstances that each and every consumer will cooperate with the City officials to the best interest of all concerned.

Thanking you for your cooperation to this appeal, I am,
Very truly yours,
H. GRADY PERKINS,
Commissioner of Public Utilities.

Mrs. Reneaud, with two grandsons at St. Stanislaus, was favorably and widely known and will be missed by her circle of friends.

THE ECHO'S
COOKING CLASS

HOT days when the appetite fails, care should be taken to provide nourishing food in an attractive manner. If the members of the family are well nourished, they are able to resist the usual summer diseases.

Cheese Muffins
Sift together 1 cup each of rye meal and pastry flour, 2 slightly rounding teaspoons of baking powder, ½ teaspoon of salt and ¼ cup of sugar. Beat 1 egg, add 1 cup of milk and stir into the dry ingredients with 3 tablespoons of melted fat. Have ready a muffin pan hot and well greased, put a generous spoonful of the mixture in each compartment of the pan. Lay a thin slice of cheese on each. Cover with the rest of the mixture. Bake 25 minutes.

Jellied Ginger Pear Salad
Heat to the boiling point 8 halves of canned pears, 2 cups canned pear juice, 1 tablespoon chopped preserved ginger, and 2 tablespoons ginger, and 2 tablespoons ginger syrup. Remove pears and arrange rounded side up in a shallow pan. Add 1-8 teaspoon salt and 1 package lemon flavored gelatin to the boiling syrup. Stir until dissolved, then pour over the pears. Chill until set cut in squares, serve on lettuce garnished with mayonnaise.

AT UNCLE CHARLIE'S NITE CLUB

In order to celebrate the glorious Fourth, Uncle Charlie announces in this week's Echo a special dance, to be given on the evening previously, July 3. And for this occasion the price will be cut to 75 cents for gentlemen, ladies complimentary.
